My Dear Brother Sir Knights,

It is the season of Christmas. Mother earth has wrapped our homes and cities with her white blanket. Everything looks so beautiful and pure. We love this season as we gather around the family table to celebrate the birth of Christ. Our plans are in place to make this, for our family and friends, the most wonderful time of the year.

As we look forward to all these gatherings and gift-exchange, we know very well that we are blessed. This is not so for everybody. The reality lies in the fact that many are challenged by their life and environment. Giving a helping hand is not a Christmas thing but a Christian one which goes on throughout the year. We do emphasize it at this time, but this should be the attitude of every brother Knight and their family all through the year. Being a Knight is a family affair. Everyone is included in the vocation of every Knight. It is our way of showing through our example because we exist to help the poor near to our home as those in other lands where they are even persecuted for being a Christian.

May we continue to open our hearts, lives and homes to those who are most in need. Share your Christmas meal with those around you. Bring the Joy of the birth of Christ to all those who have lost their meaning in life and have forgotten to love and to let themselves be loved. Carry your Christmas smile to all.

Merry Christmas my dear Brothers and Sisters. Blessings in the New Year.
